FAREWELL

Classmates, it's time to bid adieu,
 But we will always think of you.
 The years we've spent together,
 At our work or play.
 Just a jolly band,
 Carefree, and gay.
 Classmates, the time has come at last
 When we can look into the past
 You know our hearts are bending
 To see our school days ending
 Farewell Dear Old Classmates true.

So now, we'll bid our last goodbye
 To our dear Old Norwood High
 We realize we are leaving,
 A school we love so dear
 Forever and forever
 Through the days, through the years
 Schoolmates, we'll miss each other so,
 As out into the world we go,
 To seek our destinations with lots of congratulations,
 Farewell Dear Old Classmates true.

CLASS HISTORY

It was a happy group of six-year olds, who, on a lovely day in August of the year 1937, waited impatiently in our seats for our first lessons to begin. Excited at the prospect of coming to school for the first time, we all hurriedly began getting acquainted and making friends, on that first day sure that all would be wonderful—just play, never any work! We soon found out differently, of course, for those ABC's seemed never to be able to penetrate through those little heads of ours. It all seemed so worthless—Why couldn't we all just go out and play? However, we soon began to like even our work, looking forward always to play periods. We had operettas, chapel programs, and May Day Festivals. All that was beautiful and we were all sorry, when, after four years of primary school life, we were to be promoted to the Grammar Grades; so we jumped from fun and fellowship and the 3 R's to tasks a little harder and more complicated. In Grammar School, we rapidly made progress in the matter of making new acquaintances and getting accustomed to our new way of living. Activities continued to give us much joy and even our lessons took on a more likable appearance, while in our hearts, each of us wished for and longed fervently for, the day when we would be High School students.

Finally the great day came! We took another important step and were students of the great Norwood High School. On the first day of our new surroundings and new faces, were were frightened and at the same time delighted—frightened because we were seeing so many new and strange people, and delighted because we had at last reached this height. We stayed together, a scared group of children, and wished heartily that we were back in dear old Grammar School with those friends and activities we had known for the last three years. We were so lost and bewildered. Looking around us, we wondered if the time would ever come when we would be like those Seniors walking down the hall in a laughing group as if they were really happy, and not self-conscious as we were. The Seniors and Juniors held an especial place in our favor, for were they not the two classes who had such grand times, and of which we so longed to be a part? After three years in High School, we had become used to all the excitement that went on around us, and in fact we were quite a large part of it. We were then Juniors, and that year we had some perfectly lovely times, taking time out from our studies to give parties and a Christmas pageant and the Junior-Senior Banquet. For a while, we kept the Seniors guessing as to how and when they would be honored. Then on the night of April 16, we all had a marvelous time at the most beautiful banquet anyone could dream of. Miss Bess Ivey was our Junior sponsor, and no one could have wished for a more generous, understanding, and sympathetic teacher than this lovely blue-eyed lady.

Then came the exciting day when we received our class rings. That was on the fifteenth of May and was one of the highlights of the whole school life.

By this time, we had begun to think seriously of our future. Some of us had already decided what our life work would be, with some of us choosing college, others business schools, and still others different phases of life. By the time that we returned to school for our last year, most of us had decided what we wanted most in life.

Now we reign as Seniors! All our dreams are coming true. With the loss of four of our girls, namely, Anna Carrol Johnson, Connie Lee, Betty Jo Traywick, and Mary Ross Whitley, who during the summer took unto themselves husbands, we finish our last year of High School—our Senior year. We are in number thirty-two, with the addition of Bill Crook, who was a late comer to our class, joining us after Christmas. We are directed by Miss Helen Sanford of Laurinburg, and we all love her and adore her sincerely, envying all other classes who will have her as their Senior leader.

Now we are looking forward to, and yet dreading, graduation—for it means that we must leave this place where we have all had so much fun together, these friends whom we shall never forget and shall wish it had not passed so quickly. Looking back over the last twelve years, we recall wistfully the joys and disappointments of our school life. Those memories will never fade, and we shall always think of Norwood High School with love and adoration. We have had some marvelous times in our school days, and in these next four months of our last days together, hope to continue to do so. Some of the highlights of this last year, which have been and remain to be important to us are listed here:

September 13, 1948—Return to school, beginning our last year together.

September 30—Election of Senior Class officers with W. D. Harris, President; Jane Poplin, Vice President; Peggy Morgan, Secretary; Martha Lou Poplin, Treasurer.

October 25—The Seniors were entertained at a winer roast held on Morrow Mountain and given by the Juniors.

November 17—The grade parents were chosen. They are: Mrs. Loy Dry, Mrs. J. L. Lee, Mr. Franklin Hutchinson, Mr. Clyde Mabry, Sr.

November 18—As Mascots the Seniors chose the twins, Delores and Danny Morgan, from among about ten of the cutest children possible. We also chose our class colors—blue and white; class flower—carnation; class motto—"Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers".

November 19—On this dark, rainy, and terribly muddy day, all the students came dressed in their best, to have pictures made for the annual. In a beautiful coronation ceremony held in the auditorium, Patsy Coley was crowned Miss Norwood Hi, by Liles Lewis, from Radio Station WABZ in Albemarle.

December 2—Winning out over ten other girls representing the Stanly County schools, Miss Coley was crowned Miss Merry Christmas, in Albemarle, by Mayor "Doc" Morrow.

December 20—The Seniors were entertained at a buffet supper at the Methodist hut with beautiful decorations carrying out the Christmas spirit.

December 21—The annual Christmas party for the High School, held in the gymnasium. After that, we all went home to await the coming of Christmas.

January 3, 1949—The return to school to finish our Norwood Hi days.

January 10—We Seniors ordered our calling cards.

January 12 — Senior Class superlatives were chosen.

January 27-28—Mid-term Examinations!!!

June 1-3—Graduation!!!!

LAST WILL and TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Norwood High School, County of Stanly, and State of North Carolina, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any will or wills heretofore made by us. We, in this manner, do dispose of our possessions.

To the dear old school, we would just like to leave. We also leave to the school any coke bottles and big wads of gum which may have been left behind.

We, the boys, leave Mr. Short a new "katey" (with three holes) to use on other students. We also leave our pleasant memories of our good times together and even of our bad times with "katey".

To the faculty, we leave all the other students in High School, and hope they will be pleased with them as much as they have been with us.

We leave the Junior Class our position as Seniors of Norwood High School, and may they fill it well.

To the Grade Parents, we leave our admiration and appreciation for the many things they have done for us in our Senior year.

The members of the class also will the following personal effects:

Jane Poplin leaves a few extra pounds to Bobby Smith. She also leaves her cheerleading ability to Mary Ella Skidmore.

Jeter Lee leaves his great knowledge of French to anyone who wants it. He also leaves his jumping ability to Loyd Simpson.

Charles Snuggs leaves his hair styles to A. J. Hutchinson and his witty remarks to Wyatt Collins.

Peggy Morgan wills her curly hair to Mary Lee Turner.

Aileen Livingston leaves her notoriety for receiving telephone calls to Josephine Morgan.

Carl Luther leaves his ability to bum cigarettes to Bobby Ray Hinson.

Lamar Lentz leaves everything High School boys should have to Woody Stewart.

W. D. Harris leaves his capacity to lead the Senior Class to some poor Junior.

Aileen McIntyre leaves her ability to be true to Janie Snuggs.

Noah Simpson leaves his straight hair to Sammy Morris.

Billy Hutchinson leaves June Curtis a few more years in High School. He also leaves his ability to play basketball to Barry Russell.

Daniel Lowder just wishes to leave.

Rosa Lefler leaves her ability to make noise on class to Myra Hinson.

P. L. Dry leaves his good looks to Troy Lee Carriker, and his dancing ability to James Ivey.

Lesca Hopkins leaves her ability to type to Mary Huncutt.

Ruth Swaringen leaves her quiet ways to Nell Byrd.

Bid Crump leaves his ability to drive a school bus to Graham Maner.

Rachel Blalock leaves her honor roll grades to Bobby Holcomb.

Ruth Sims leaves her ability to play basketball to Peggy Mabry, and her conceit to Martha Ann Tyson.

Frank Dennis leaves his ability to ask for chewing gum to George Ivey.

Nancy Lanier leaves her dependability to Faye Holton.

Martha Lou Poplin leaves her daugh to Dolores Stewart.

Clyde Mabry leaves his height to Gene Giddy and his ability to lead the S. P. S. to anyone who so desires it.

Mary Alice Harris leaves the Rambler to Dora Lee Wiley and her ability to drive a car to Bonnie Curtis.

Hazel Blalock leaves her walk to Ann Lefler, and her art ability to Lowell Thompson.

Betty Jean Lamb leaves her happy go lucky ways to C. B. McManus, and her ability to leave school to Kennith Pope.

Sudie Corbett leaves her good grades to James Morgan.

Ruth Dennis leaves her braces to Donald Fowler.

Olee Poplin leaves her secretarial ability to Raymond Skidmore.

Patsy Coley leaves her beauty to some homely girl.

And last but not least, Travis Mabry leaves his ability to eat to Roy Lee Blalock—plus a few extra pounds.

In witness whereof we, the Senior Class of 1949, do set our hand and affix this seal, this the third day of June, nineteen hundred and forty-nine.

Signed: CHARLES SNUGGS,

Attorney.

Witnesses: Seniors of 1949.

CLASS PROPHECY

"Prophets of wisdom, who can see all unseen things to come, the Class of 1949, of Norwood High School is about to pass out of school forever into the future. I beseech you, reveal the future to us and prophesy unto us. Tell us what is to come to pass."

THE PROPHETS SPEAK

Ah, twenty, thirty years hence I see a rich merchant—only the best things for him. Yes, it is Frank Dennis.

Yes, now I see the world's greatest baseball player. None other than Jeter LeRoy Lee.

Wait, yes it is, Rachel Blalock is a missionary on the foreign country of Asia.

Now I see Clyde Mabry, who is now a great agriculture teacher and owner of thousands of acres of land.

Now, a beautiful lady of society, envied by all, center of all attraction, Mary Alice Harris.

And now I see Carl Grady Luther, a very successful businessman in the world.

Listen, hear the newspaper boy. Extra! Hear all about it! American ship crew rescued by Captain Lamar Lentz of U. S. Navy.

It's an airplane, and Rosa Lefler, looking very smart, is a stewardess.

Ah, it is Sudie Corbett I see, a receptionist in a large New York office.

There's Billy Hutchinson, the world's most famous basketball coach and living a life of pleasure.

Look! It's Aileen Livingston coming out of New York's famous fashion store. She is a famous dress designer.

Wait, now I see a patrolman, stopping those who break the laws. It is Billy Crump.

Coming out of the beauty shop in Hollywood, are Betty Jean Lamb and Hazel Blalock, famous beauticians for movie stars.

I see now W. D. Harris, the world's greatest stunt flyer. He is wealthy—a private plane.

Ah, it is Ruth Sims I see, secretary to the President of the United States.

A housewife I see—very happy and wealthy. Of course it's Patsy Coley—only the name isn't Coley now.

It's a nurse I see coming out from the Veterans' Hospital in Maryland, Peggie Morgan.

Ah, a lovely successful lady in business—beautiful home. Oh yes, it is Lesca Hopkins.

Look, yes it is, Noah Simpson serving in the U. S. Navy. Some day he will be famous.

Wait! The crystal ball tells me—a housewife and a very happy one, married to a very handsome man. None other than Aileen McIntyre.

Now I see a Home Economics teacher in the crystal ball. Yes, it is Nancy Lanier.

Now a great farmer I see, owning many acres of land. Why, it is Travis Mabry.

Wait, what's all the comotion about? It is only Olee Poplin teaching commercial work in a large school in North Carolina.

Ah, now I see a woman happily married to a wealthy politician. Why, it's Ruth Dennis.

Yes, a teacher I see, specializing in algebra. I see her now, Ruth Swaringen.

Ah, a brick mason comes into view. He works the hard way. It's Daniel Lowder. Some day he will be rich.

Ah, look! It's Jane Poplin, secretary of one of the Congressmen of the United States.

Wait, hear the newsboy! P. L. Dry, famous in the undertaking work, inherited from his father.

Yes, I see him now, Charles Snuggs, one of New York's most fashionable hair stylerers for men.

Look! Why it's Martha Lou Poplin, a secretary of a big lawyer. She has plenty of leisure time for pleasure.
